Saigling Dedication Scheduled

VOL. 90-NO. 58

Plano Independent School District officials will formally dedicate C.F. Saigling Elementary School at 2 p.m. Sunday at the school, 3600 Mat-

Delivering the dedication address will be Rick Saigling, descendant of Charles Frederick Saigling for whom the district's newest school is named. Superintendent H. Wayne Hendrick will serve as master of ceremonies.

Also to be involved in the dedication and open house are School Board President Rutledge Haggard, Saigling PTO President Linda Nelson, Student Council President Jennifer Hamren and principal Clay T. Smith.

A choral program will be presented by fifth and sixth grade Saigling students.

C.F. Saigling, born in Switzerland in 1840, immigrated from Germany at age 14. He worked in East Texas sawmills until he moved to Plano in the early 1880's with his wife, the former Celestine Pillot, and family. He operated a flour and planning mill as well as owning much land in the Saigling was elected to the first School Board in May 1889 and served jointly as a trustee and City Councilman until March 1900 when the district was declared an independent school district. He served a two-year term on the School Board also. PISD and Saigling staff invite all Planoites to the dedication and open house Sunday afternoon.

Food Costs May Climb Six Percent

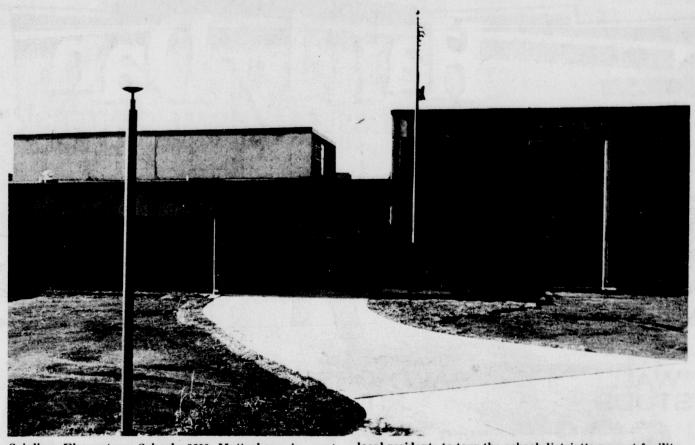

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Increased charges by middlemen and higher costs for imports will boost food prices for American consumers as much as 6 percent in 1978, the Agriculture Department said today.

And for the second year in a row, consumers will pay more to get the food from the field to the grocery store than they pay the farmer to grow it.

Kenneth Farrell, head of the agency's Economic Research Service, said farmers would see little benefit from the price increases, receiving the same $56 billion for feeding America they have received each of the past five years.

The expected increase in food prices will be slightly below the 6.5 percent rise endured by consumers this year, Farrell told the department's annual Outlook Conference today.

Increased prices for sugar, spurred by a higher government import fee, will account for part of the food price

Dishonest Employees

Billions Lost to Crime

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Crimes against American business - ranging from simple theft to sophisticated computer abuse — cost an estimated $30 billion last year and the No. 1 reason is dishonest employees, a government study said today.

"Thefts committed by employees are behind at least 60 percent of crime-related losses," a Commerce Department report estimated. "So many employees are stealing so much that employee theft is the most critical crime problem facing business today.

In the sector of the report on bank crime, some elaborate — and not so elaborate-schemes were reviewed.

In one case, a bank teller stole $168,000 in a brown bag by carrying it through an exit guarded by a security officer whose duties included package

"He told the guard it was a pet rabbit," the report said.

Another unidentified bank was defrauded of several thousand dollars, the report said, when a depositor substituted his coded deposit slips for the blanks in the bank's lobby and "all deposits subsequently were credited to his account." The 124-page report titled "Crime in Service Industries" outlined criminal activity in such wide-ranging areas as cargo transportation, schools, hospitals, motels and hotels, banks and insurance companies.

It suggested preventive measures to combat severe crime in each industry studied, because at present the focus of the crime wave is "severe ... management involvement in the battle to cut losses is not sufficiently aggressive."

According to the report, crime within service industries alone cost $9.2 billion in 1976, and that is just the "tip of the iceberg." Much of the criminal activity goes unreported and some crimes — such as bribery, kickbacks and fraud - are impossible to calculate in dollar terms.

Employees get most of the blame. "Employee theft is a primary cause of crime losses ... although external threats such as burglary, robbery, larceny, bad checks and fraudulent use of credit cards are also present," the report said.

It said the single most important action to combat employee crime would be to "set up a screening process that will weed out obvious security risks.

Women's Conference Should Draw 20,000

Houston (UPI) - The National Women's Conference, in unprecedented meetings on American women, opens a new battleground in the escalating war between feminists and the conservative opponents of equal rights.

An estimated 20,000 women representing views as diverse as lesbianism and the Ku Klux Klan were expected in Houston to witness the four-day conference opening Friday. About 2,000 of them are official delegates.

The National Women's Conference, the first such meeting of its kind in American history, was funded by a $5 million congressional appropriation with a mandate to answer the question: "What do women want?"

Feminists and conservatives both seized upon the conference as a new public forum for the battle they already have been waging in state legislations for the last six years over the proposed Equal Rights Amend-

The conference is being dominated by feminists, who have drafted a long platform to be enacted by the delegates including support for ERA, abortion and lesbian rights.

Followers of ERA opponent Phyllis Schlafly, who viewed the feminists' proposals as "antifamily," promised to offer an alternative platform condemning ERA, abortion, sex education, homosexuality and por-

Building Official Ralph Shick said 10 permits valued at $2,078,840 were issued. For the same period a year ago, only five permits valued at $390,060 were approved.

The largest single retail permit issued during the past month was to Tom Thumb and Page Drugs for an $870,000 structure at 3100 Independence. The developer is Kendrick Development.

Kendrick Development also received four other permits for structures in the Independence Square Shopping Center. Kendrick projects include shell buildings valued at $145,700, $197,600, $167,900 and $98,800.

Other retail permits approved include: shell building and interior finish for Comet Cleaners, Jay's Auto Supply and 7-11, 1301 Parker, Heady-Minyard, $274,000; shell building, 1108 Parker, Parkview Joint Venture, $150,000; Jim Dandy Fried Chicken, 1911 15th, Host International, $80,000; mini-warehouses, 1100 Dallas North Parkway, James P. Melton, $40,000; and free standing building, 2205 Parker, Pearcy-Christon Inc., $19,840.

Pearcy-Christon has also received approval for a $77,000 shell for a savings and loan. The office will be located at 2129 Parker.

Only 87 single family home permits valued at $4,279,580 were authorized. This is less than half of September's homes (183) or 1976 October residences (186).

Two duplexes valued at $149,740, one industry valued at $40,000 and three miscellaneous structures valued at $12,000 were also approved. Among additions authorized were 30 residential, five retail, one school and one church.

Shick's department also issued the following permits: 200 electrical, 178 plumbing, 127 heating and air, 32 sign, 72 fence, 25 swimming pool and one moving.

The occasion: A party given by Hammerstein's widow in honor of Hugh Fordin, author of "Getting to Know Him," the great lyricist's biography. Nation Observes No Smoking Day

A 24-hour tobacco break, voluntary of course, began today for an estimated 5 million Americans. That's the number of people the American Cancer Society predicted would put puffing aside for the annual coast-to-coast "Great American Events of the day ranged from "the world's largest ashtray" for depositing cigarettes — not butts — at San Francisco's Union Square to bonfires in Detroit. The purpose of the campaign, supported by federal health agencies, is to focus national attention on the health hazards of tobacco and to encourage at least some of the nation's 54 million smokers to kick the habit. "The consequences of the smoking habit are horrendous," Pennsylvania's health secretary, Dr. Leonard Bachman said on the eve of the smokeless day. "Latest figures indicate that 40 percent of cancer in American males is caused by smoking."

Seattle gave the event an early kickoff when the cheerleaders for the Seattle Seahawks of the National Football League passed out matchbooks in the downtown area. The match heads were cut off and the cover read: "On Nov. 17 get off your butt." Inside it read: "Stop Smoking!

Not to be outdone, Coach Bobby Leonard of the National Basketball Association's Indiana Pacers said he was urging: "Don't puff it — stuff it," at a barrel for that purpose at Monument Circle in Indianapolis

Dr. Justin Stein of Long Beach, Calif., president of the state Cancer Society, said the strength of the smokeout is that people who smoke are leaders of the effort, including national Chairman Sammy Davis Jr., a chain smoker.

Stein said about 5 million smokers were expected to quit puffing, including

1 million in California alone. "Obviously not all of them will make it through the day," he said, "but hundreds of thousands will find that with the encouragement of families and friends it can be done. Dr. Terry Reynolds of San Bernardino, Calif., said 1 million smokers giving up cigarettes is equivalent to taking 17,000 cars off the road.

Birdseed Saving Day Saturday at Museum

Patrons who have ordered seed in the Heard Museum's Bird Seed Savings Day project should pick it up this Saturday, according to Dr. Harold Laughlin, museum director.

Staff and volunteer personnel will be on hand between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. to process orders and help load purchases.

Almost 15,000 pounds of seed were ordered during the past few weeks in this special fund-raising activity. Proceeds will go to help support the museum's educational and conservation activities.

A small amount of extra seed was ordered by the museum and this will be sold on Saturday on a first-come, first-served basis.

Laughlin requests that purchasers come to the south door of the museum to pick up their orders. The museum is located one mile east of SH-5 on FM-1378 south of McKinney.

Epidemic Strikes State

Texans Whooping It Up

A nationwide whooping cough outbreak has hit Texas. The outbreak, which reached epidemic proportions in Atlanta, Ga., has almost doubled the number of Texas cases reported.

The disease is rarely very serious in adults and older children. But it causes pneumonia in about 10 percent of the cases in very young children. Severe cases also can cause brain damage.

Unless they are immunized, small children do not have any protection from the disease, the Texas Medical Association says.

Immunization does not provide absolute protection from whooping cough but it can greatly decrease chances of getting the disease at all or of having a serious case.

Although this schedule can vary, children usually are given whooping cough shots in this sequence of ages: two months, four months, six months, and once between ages three and six. Above age 6, children usually are not given the vaccine.

The whooping cough, also called pertussis, vaccine often is combined with diphtheria and tetanus vaccine in a DPT shot. SDS Leader Yesterday, Insurance Sales Today

By DEBORAH FRAZIER DENVER (UPI) - Photographs of the 1960s show activist Rennie Davis at the founding of Students of a Democratic Society and during the Chicago Seven trial glaring angrily from behind rimless glasses.

Davis wanted to change the world.

Contact lenses have replaced the spectacles. Davis, now an insurance broker and still a member of Guru Maharaj Ji's Divine Light Mission, holds the world in a different focus, but still works for change.

"Peace for me now is a way of life, not a far-off goal. The 60's were a painful, beautiful and necessary journey for me to reach this place," said Davis, 37. "I believe we have the tools to end all wars and bring beace. "The strand that has run through my life is why people are suffering. There was a time when everything I saw could be explained through politics. But I didn't really have any idea what caused anything. I was just as ignorant as Richard Nixon in that sense."

Davis' existence in 1977 is far from his 1960s dreams and the farm in Virginia's Blue gridge Mountains where he grew up. A patch of grey hair corners his face. His office is located a few blocks from his single-story brick home. He often walks home at midafternoon to babysit his 18month-old daughter while his wife, Luanne, works at her part-time job.

Plano Art Association member Marie Renfro was one of many area artists displaying work at the annual Five Dollar

Art Sale sponsored by the group at Prairie Creek Shopping

Insurance, viewed as the ultimate sell-out by activists of Davis' vintage, is his livelihood. An 18-year-old Indian guru, scoffed at a decade ago, is Davis' spiritual mentor.

"I still care about suffering. And part of me wants to pour cold water over my head at the idea I am selling insurace. But my message is the same, my medium has changed.

Later, he said, "When I see pain it still wells up tears for me. But I see the process of cleaning up the world as the process of cleaning up your own act

The solution Davis now espouses is not so much the teachings of Maharaj as an understanding of life a person obtains from receiving "knowledge."

"And the truly wonderful thing about this experience is it can be taken off the mystical level and understood by factory workers, waitresses, anyone. And it can be verified by human senses.'

The child of a comfortable, middle class America, Davis said the most radical thing he did in high school was join

A co-founder of SDS in 1962. Davis and six other activists were tried in Chicago seven years later for conspiring to disrupt the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

The court conviction, following renowned courtroom antics, was overturned on appeal. But his conviction the war must be end was renewed.

In Paris to meet lith the North Vietnamese in 1973, Davis had a chance encounter with Maharaj Ji. A year later, activists moaned young guru's ring at a worldwide gathering.

"The radical decade ended for me then. I lost every friend I had. But I find I am talking to some of those people again and I find a vague understanding of what happened to me and an acceptance."

Davis moved into a Divine Light Mission ashram in Denver and lived a monastic life. He traded his rimless glasses for contact lenses, exchanged his political the 4-H and judge a poultry rhetoric for proselytizing.

Bleach whitens old playpen

By Polly Cramer

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY – I have a mesh playpen that has become gray looking as when it was used I often left it outdoors. Please tell me how to clean and whiten this as I have tried several household cleaners and used a brush but to no avail. I simply cannot get it clean looking. – JEANNINE.

DEAR JEANNINE – I would try scrubbing the playpen mesh with a laundry detergent that has a special brightener and hot water. If this does not do the job then scrub with diluted bleach water, rinse and put in the sun to dry. I had great luck doing this to gray looking white canvas on a terrace chair. - POLLY.

DEAR POLLY -- My Pet Peeve is with those people who put away coats and dresses with pockets and forget to remove handkerchiefs and facial tissues that are full of germs. When the clothes are worn again out come those germs to start colds and flu all over again. – BURNICE.

DEAR POLLY – I am answering Alice B. who has trouble getting salad dressing out of a bottle. I open the bottle, insert the neck down in a tall glass so the edges of the glass will hold the wide part of the bottle, let drain into glass and find that by the time I am ready to use it enough dressing has drained down into the glass.

Those who live alone or are elderly should take extra care when taking a bath. Get into the tub and th?n run the water and then do not get out of the tub until all the water is drained out. If one should slip there may be a bump or two but there is no danger of drowning. – E.P.

DEAR E.P. and ALICE B. – The best way to get every drop from a bottle of salad dressing or even ketchup, hand lotion, etc., is when you think the bottle is empty, secure the cap tightly and stand it on its head or side for a day. You will be surprised at the amount that is still in the bottle and that would have otherwise been tossed out. -LILLIAN.

DEAR POLLY-My husband is disabled and has little use of his hands and this makes it hard for him to even take his dog for a walk. I made a circle of elastic (like a collar) to slip over the dog's head and then this is fastened to the leash and works very well. It is easy for my husband to remove the elastic collar by pulling it over the dog's head when he brings him in after a walk.

To fill small jars with jelly or jam and not waste any I fold a large piece of foil into fourths for strength, shape into a cone to go in the top of the jar and the jelly is poured right

Youth Now Punk?

By VERNON SCOTT HOLLYWOOD (UPI) Youth will have its day and today it's punk.

Punk is the generic term for what used to be flaming youth, bobby soxers and the bubble gum set, but it is kinkier and grungier than its forebears.

Punk's physical manifestations are outrageous outfits, multicolored hair, freaky jewelry and filthy language set to the driving blast of amplified guitars of new wave punk

It's adherents range in age from 9 to 25. It's hangouts are discos.

While punk has no high priests, its apostles are such rock groups as The Sex Pistols, The Ramones, Blondie, The Germs, The Zippers and a couple of all girl groups named The Slits and Snatch, which gives you an idea.

Curiously, the groups abhor the term punk. But rock radio stations and underground record companies won't have it any other way.

Punk fans show up in discos dressed in garbage sacks, torn jeans sometimes with the seat torn out to reveal buttocks — tank tops emblazoned with fourletter words. Anything goes, the more revolting the better.

Greasepainted faces, not unlike Zulu warriors, are the rage. Hairdos are tinted green, purple and orange.

Bizarre jewelry includes a safety pin stuck through a nostril and attached by a chain to a pierced ear lobe. Razor blades entwined in coiffures, chains and man cles are the rage. The swastika is a popular em-

Every night is Halloween. Many punk rock groups spit and hurl obscenties at their audiences while the children on the dance floor pogo jump up and down in frenzied response to the earsplitting noise — pushing, chanting, hitting and sometimes kicking one another. They revile the bands with gestures and vulgarities.

For the most part punksters are anti-drugs, anti-alcohol and antireligious. There is some use of angel dust, PCP, a dangerous hallucinogen, not unlike LSD, but it is expensive and not an important part of punk culture.

Punk apparently has no philosophy and certainly no leaders — punksters are also anti-hero — in the movement except an underlying catchphrase, "Don't trust anyone over 20.

Common sense dictates that punks are simply spoiled products of an affluent society working hard at drawing attention to themselves. But early on it did have political overtones.

Mardi Gras Games Planned

Plano's Spartans Football Club has accepted an invitation to play in the first annual Mardi Gras invitational soccer games, Feb. 4-11, 1978 in New Orleans. The games are being sponsored by the Plantation Athletic Club, Inc. of New Orleans.

The announcement came at the annual picnic and awards banquet which was held Sunday at the Quail Hollow Ranch near Southland, Texas. The banquet was attended by over 200 team members and their families.

Five age groups from Plano, under 12, under 14, under 16 boys, under 16 girls, under 19 boys and under 19 girls, will enter the games in New Orleans. The coaches, chaperons and the five teams will stay in the homes of the host players.

Other teams participating in the games will be New Orleans Sun, Motagua, Hellenic Doxia, Espana, Willowdale, Hellenic Spirits, Sun Two and the host club Plantation Athletic Club.

An agreement was reached between the Spartans Football Club and the Plantation Athletic Club which would see a like number of teams from New Orleans visiting the Plano area in the summer of 1978. "Many of the families of the players indicated an enthusiastic desire to make plans to attend the Mardi Gras and to lend support to the project," said club official Herb Reed.

Lufkin Provides Potent Competition

Plano Wildcats Look To Bi-District Playoffs

By ED VOSS Sports Editor

Lufkin provides the opposition Friday at 8 p.m. at Waco's Baylor Stadium as the Plano Senior High Wildcats return to the state playoffs for the 12th time in the past 14 years.

Plano has missed the playoffs only twice in 14 seasons and the last time was in 1976. Plano didn't like having a sideline seat to the Class AAAA battles and rebounded this year to an 8-1-1 mark and the representation rights to District 13-

"We are happy to be in the playoffs," Coach Tommy Kimbrough said. "We feel we played in one of the best districts in the state. When we played the number one team in the state at that time, Sherman, they couldn't stop us from getting to the playoffs. We have to be happy with that."

Sherman and Plano tied for the district championship but the Wildcats held a statistical edge in their 14-14 tie and were awarded the representation rights. However, the Wildcats face a team in the playoffs that reminds Coach Kimbrough of Sherman's ability.

"In talent, they compare with Sherman," said Kimbrough, the second-year head mentor. "Offensively, they compare with Greenville. Defensively, out of 10 games they held seven of their opponents to less thaan two touchdowns and nine of their opponents to less than three touchdowns."

"Longview is the only team to score three touchdowns on Lufkin. They have a strong defense and they played a strong Lufkin tied for the championship of District 14-AAAA with Longview and both teams finished with 9-1 season records. However, Lufkin surprised highly-ranked Longview 28-20 in the final game of the regular season to take the representation rights. That was a game Coach Kimbrough witnessed because his Wildcats enjoyed an open date.

"I would not classify the game as an upset," Coach Kimbrough said. "The best team won."

"Lufkin made a lot of big plays. They didn't control the ball in the game I saw because they scored so fast they couldn't control it. They didn't punt much against one of the best defensive teams in the state (Longview)," said Coach Kimbrough.

Keys to the explosiveness of the Lufkin offense are quarterback Ronnie Blake and running back Jimmy Kegler. "Lufkin has one of the best running quarterbacks in the state," Coach Kimbrough said. Blake's statistics back Blake has scored nine touchdowns on running plays and has rushed for 959 yards in 10 games. Kegler is just as outstanding. From the tailback slot, Kegler has totaled 1109 yards. Rounding out the backfield is Jerry Walker with only 130 yards and one touchdown but his key blocks have helped to spring some big plays.

Lining up at wingback in Lufkin's I-formation offense is Ronnie Edwards, who has made the majority of the Pan-

Defensively, Lufkin operates from an eight-man front. Lufkin is the third team in a row to throw an eight-man front against Plano. The previous two opponents were Denison, which Plano beat 28-6, and Greenville, who Plano also crushed, 30-19.

"It has to be of some help to be running against the same type defense," Coach Kimbrough said.

Keys to the defense, which is the biggest Plano has encountered all season, are mammoth 275 lb. tackle Reggie Davis, 225 lb. tackle Steve Kindel and 210 lb. linebacker Winfred Tullis.

Plano is in prime condition for the playoffs because they have had two weeks to prepare since their final game against Denison.

"Last week we split time between conditioning and timing and preparing for both Lufkin and Longview," Coach Kimbrough said. "This week has all been directed at

'out'a bounds'

-Ed Voss, Sports Editor -

Well, at last the preliminaries are over and the state football playoffs are here. The biggie for everyone has to be Plano Vs. Lufkin at Waco's Baylor Stadium at 8 p.m.

However, there is another interesting game Friday night in the playoffs involving former Planoites. Aledo will be playing China Spring in bi-district Class A action.

Coach of Aledo is Jimmy Smith, a 1965 graduate of Plano High. Jimmy is the looka-like twin brother of the Plano Independent School District's information director Jerry

China Spring has a principal named Keith Sockwell. Sockwell was a coach in the Plano schools for numerous years including handling defensive coordinator duties for the 1971 state championship team in Class AAA. Sockwell was principal at Vines High School last year before making the tran-

Aledo and China Springs are playing at Cleburne, 8 p.m. on Friday.

The drive to Baylor for the Plano Vs. Lufkin game is approximately 120 miles. Considering the warp speed at which I always travel, I have considered using a citizen's band radio to help deter attracting peace officers when I drive to Waco Friday.

I have always been a bit lead-footed and have luckily gotten away with it for quite some time. (I seem to remain one step ahead of the insurance company.) My eyes have been sharpened through the years and I have become quite adept at spotting both marked and unmarked law enforcement vehicles that joy in stopping us low-flvers.

Pam E. Troboy, our police reporter at the Star-Courier and known worldwide as the notorious East Texas Aggie, has agreed to lend me her CB radio for the trip. However, I wonder if that means I have to use her handle also - Lois Lane?

I have always held in high esteem those automobiles which could shake the ground at idle, reach crusing speed in the blink of an eyelash and careen around corners on two wheels with ease.

It is such cars I have always owned, but the last few years have all but seen the demise of the real honest-to-gosh road burner. The best I've been able to do with late model cars is a Trans-Am.

Well, a friend of mine who shall remain nameless recently solved the problem of finding a new model muscle car. He bought a 1978 Camaro Z-28 minus engine. He then fitted in a high performance 1970 engine that was built entirely from brand new parts in stock at an area Chevrolet dealership. Parts alone cost upwards of the $2.500 he is admitting to and that doesn't include the labor costs of assembling it.

Fast cars I love, but I won't go to the extremes of some people. (Besides, my pocketbook won't let me.) My friend has got two ticket violations in less than two weeks.

Thanksgiving Day

Almost Died Out KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) - Americans' celebration of Thanksgiving Day almost died out during the presidency of Thomas Jefferson, between 1801 and 1809, according to Hallmark researcher Sally Hopkins. The first proclamation of Thanksgiving Day was made 1789 by George Washington, but by early 19th century the holiday was being celebrated only in a few parts of the United States, and on different dates. In 1827, a Boston magazine editor named Sarah Josepha Hale started a one-woman campaign to have Thanksgiving Day properly recognized. Finally in 1863 President Lincoln proclaimed it a national holiday

Bloomer Seeking Office

Jim Bloomer, assistant principal at Wilson Middle School, will be a candidate for the State Executive Committee Place 1 from District X at the Texas State Teachers Association District X convention Friday beginning at 6 p.m. at Walker Middle School in Dallas.

In his campaign for the office Bloomer has stated, "I believe that my experiences as an elementary teacher, middle school teacher, high school teacher and now as an administrator will enable me to understand the concerns faced by educators and work for the betterment of our profession.

"In order to successfully work for the benefit of our profession we must keep TSTA as an organization comprised of all members of the teaching profession."

Thirty-two delegates from Plano will be attending including Plano Education Association president Jim Dickson.

During the business session, the delegates will be acting upon resolutions and amendments to the constitution, electing district officers for next year, confirming delegates to the state House of Delegates and electing district members to the State Executive Committee.

Dallas History Published

History buffs digging into Dallas' past will now find the going a lot easier, thanks to a University of Texas at Dallas faculty member.

Harvey Graff, assistant professor of history and social science, recently completed a 59-page "Bibliographical Guide to the Sources of (Dallas') Social History to 1930.'

Funded by grants from UT-Dallas, Graff's year-long Dallas Social History Project supplies information which attempts to analyze population patterns, social differentiation and the city's maturation developing economy. "To our knowledge, this is the only guide to the sources of Dallas' social history which attempts to be comprehensive," Graff said.

Craft Fair Today

November 17, 18 and 19 have been selected as the dates for the annual Harvest Festival Celebration for the Craft Compound in Snider Plaza, Dallas.

Quilters, spinners, potters, a paper maker, doll makers and other craftsmen will give demonstrations throughout the three days.

At 10 a.m. on Saturday, November 19, Mrs. Lillie Crowley, a leading all-time Grand Champion prize winner at the Texas State Fair in Dallas, will judge the jams, jellys and relish contests along with State Fair staff member Janet Peabody.

Chantal, reputedly Dallas' most beautiful woman, whose voice is heard daily on radio station KNUS, will judge the "ugly gourd" contest at 2 p.m. on Satur-

At 12 noon, Deena the Chimp, Texas' most famous animal star, will judge the pet rock race. She will also don her artist's smock, sit at her easel and paint portraits of passers-by until 1:30 p.m.

At 11 a.m. there will be a corn shucking contest and at 2:30 p.m. Indian Dancers from various tribes will dance their annual harvest dances.

Cider, popcorn and Indian Fry Bread will be available as well as free corn on the cob for all visitors.

In addition, Pansy Parpart, fortune teller, will appear Friday and Saturday and pantomimist David Ellzey, a favorite at the Craft Compound, will entertain on Saturday between 11 and 4 p.m.
